There will be a meeting at 12 noon Tuesday at the residence of the chairman, Mrs. Frank D. Williams, at which all who are going to receive contributions under the direction of the committee are urged to be present. The Mayor has given his official permission, which reads as follows:

"Permission is hereby granted to the Belgian badge committee, its officers, Belgian badge committee, its officers, employes and duly authorized agents to employes and duly authorized agents to receive contributions on Wednesday, November 25, 1914, to be added to the funds being raised for the purchase of supplies to be sent to the Belgian people, and for this purpose to use and occupy the streets, parks and such portions of the public buildings of the city as will not obstruct the same nor interfere with the discharge of public business."

COMMUTTEE TO MEET

TUESDAY AT NOON A meeting was scheduled for last Friday, but committee members were all so busily engaged in recruiting their ranks no one had time to attend, but official action of the greatest importance to all concerned is to be taken at the Tuesday meeting. Among the phillanthropic women who are leaders in this affair are: Mrs. A. D. Landerkin, Mrs. John Murphy, Mrs. Sallie Nelson Robins and Mrs. John A. Coke.

Wherever possible, the money from the proceeds will be spent in Richmond. The committee will act under the direction of the Belgian consul, Frederick E. Nolting, who is in communication with the Belgian minister at Wash. ranks no one had time to attend, but

To those to whom the cause of the Belgians is rather vague, and lost in the general horror of the European war, the committee urges the fact that the Belgians were neutrals.

"Think of it," they tell the school children, "those poor people are in the position we would occupy if there should be war between Canada and Mexico on our territory. They might burn our homes and drive our starving people out into the world. Then would we not be thankful if some other country should come to our aid?"

The children are especially interested in this phase of the work to aid the Negro Charged With Trespassing.

William Johnson, colored, was early yesterday morning arrested and locked in the Second Precinct Station, charged with trespassing on the premises of W. L. Parrish, with the intention of committing larceny. He was arrested by Patrolman Clarke, who caught him as he fled from the house.

Parrish informed the police that he saw Johnson jump out of a back window and run down the street. He chased him several blocks, and Patrolman Howell joined in the pursuit. Clarke headed the negro off as he came toward him, and held him until the others arrived. Parrish was unable to discover any loss of property.

NEWPORT NEWS, VA.. November 14.

On complaint of five of the discharged cattle punchers, who alleged that they had not received their wages, United States Commissioner A. O. Garrett today certified a warrant of libel against the British steamer Rembrandt to the United States District Court at Norfolk. A deputy marshal will be here on Monday, the commissioner says, to serve the papers on the captain. It developed in the course of the hearing that the cattlemen had signed on the boat without reading the articles, and later discovered that they had been signed at a salary of 1 shilling a month.

No Light on Origin of Fire.
EALTIMORE, November 14.—Seven cattlemen, employed on the steamship Rembrandt, were rounded up by the police here to-day and questioned concorning the fire on the vessel, which resulted in the death of more than three-score of the 200 horses on board destined for British and French armies in Europe.

The examination shed no light on the origin of the fire, it is understood. The men were discharged from the Rem-brandt after the steamer reached Newsented to Mayor George Ainsile, and bonds to pay for the nublic improvereceived executive approval.

This will be the second act of a similar nature to be taken to the courts by Virginia cities. Two sessions ago the General Assembly passed an act to change the method of taxing the rolling stock of railroads, which includes cars, engines and similar movable equipment. It has been the cugtom to assess such property in the city in which was located the principal office. The act, however, provided for the apportionment of the money among the counties and cities in which the road operated. The assessment was to be made by the State Corporation Commission, and was to be based on the tax rate in the city where the office was located. The act was declared unconstitutional. The one now being attacked was passed at the last session of the clasterial assembly assembly as a stacked was passed at the last session of the clasterial assembly assembly as a similar nature to be made in the annexed territory.

This Happened Only Yesterday Afternoon!

A lady and gentleman came in to see several pieces of Maliogany Furniture and Rugs to match, and, of course, we sold them. When the gentleman gave his order he told our young man that he'd been to several stores before coming to us, and at the first place, when he asked for the cash discount, they told him it was 10 per cent, but before he went out he was told that he could have 25
